

Manifesto...

Effectively building units for the same price as a carpark.

The system will enable the trailer park keep changing as the users upgrade or down grade their trailers, they can simply drive it off sell it and buy another and drive it back on to the same spot with the same views and the same neighbors.

Strengths

- Affordable housing
- Cheap materials
- Flexible spaces in regards to program
- Sometimes the inhabitants even cultivate a garden. Some cities allow a long-time camping lot to be regular address registered with the authorities.
- Shared amenities. Similar to RV parks

Weaknesses

- In the United States, tornadoes and hurricanes often inflict their worst damage on trailer parks
- trailer parks are stereotypically viewed as lower income housing whose occupants live at or below the poverty line. have low social status and lead a desultory and deleterious lifestyle.

circulation layer

originally the site acts like a big round-about were crown street, and albion street traffic must circle the block. the intension is to make the site a active hub in the area which can be used to make one arrive at ther location faster.

park layer

originally the site sits near a nice little park that can be used for recreation. the intention of this proposal is to give more to the park and potentially double the recreational space.

residential layer

originally the site sits south west of a residential setor of the surry hills area. the intention of the proposal is to appear as a residential area from the residential areas to its north east.

commercial layer

this site as it sites acts as the buffer zone between residential and commerical mixed use zones. the intention of the proposal is to give back to the community even more commercial space that can be used in a separate layer to the residential spaces and recreation space.
